Michael Leonard Nuckols, 29, of 12402 Greenville Highway, Lyman, was heading west on Highway 29 near the New Hope Road intersection when he lost control of his car early Thursday, according to the Spartanburg County Coroner's Office. Nuckols overcorrected, and the car crossed back across the westbound lanes and ran off the road, went airborne and smashed into several trees. The car was demolished, and Nuckols was ejected. The accident happened about 2:55 a.m. Thursday. "It was impossible to tell if he was wearing a seat belt, it was that bad," Seay said. "It literally just cut the left side off." He was shocked by 440 volts of electricity while attaching wires in an electrical box, sheriff's reports stated. "For Mrs. Nuckols, she feels it's a case with good closure and feels she has held accountable at least one party responsible for her husband's untimely death," said Seidule. Copyright, 2003, E.W. Nuckolls Worldwide Kindred Society

The purpose and goal of the Society is to connect all known Nuckolls families in America to the immigrant ancestor James Nucco. Most descendants come from his family from Scotland and most changed the spelling to other variants. So the society is not limited to only Nuckolls. We research and include all Nuckolls, Nuckols, Nuchols, Nuckles, Nuckels, Knuckles, Nuckoles. Membership to the Society is a meager $15 per year. Your membership entitles you to 4 issues of the newsletter each year, discounts on books and CD's offered by the Society, a password to the secure photo website, and FREE research for ALL of your ancestors. Members will tell you that I never give up the hunt and have found their connections after many years.
